BUTLER, MISSOURI, WEDNESDAY MARCH 6, 1889.

NO. 15

The New President.

General Benjamin Harrison Becomes the 26th Executive of the United States.

The Capitol City Packed With Multitudes of Moist but Enthusiastic Sight-Seers.

Harrison Promises to Fully Enforce the Civil Service Law and Perhaps to Extend the Reform Principle.

Washington, March 4.—In the presence of all the wisdom and authority embodied in the coordinate branches of the government and surrounded by the representatives of all the great nations on the face of the globe, Benjamin Harrison was today inducted into the highest office within the gift of the American people. Gathering up the reins of power as they fell from the grasp of his predecessor, he took the oath which bound him to the service of his country and charged himself with the destinies of 60 million people.

The exercises preceding the inaugural address and the inauguration of Mr. Morton as vice President took place in the senate chamber.

RESERVED SEATS IN THE SENATE.

In front of the clerk's desk stood three large leather covered chairs for President Cleveland and the President and Vice-President elect. In the semi circle in front of the presiding officer's desk were arm chairs and lounges for heads of the departments, commanding officers of the army and navy and those who have received the thanks of Congress by name, the end seat on the center aisle being especially marked for the Hon. George Bancroft. On the right were ample chairs for the justices of the supreme court. To the left of the desk were chairs for the committee on arrangements, Senators Hoar, Cullom and Cockrell, and opposite them was the place reserved for the ex-Presidents and vice-Presidents of the United States, represented by the Hon. R. B. Hayes, of Ohio and the Hon. Hannibal Hamlin, of Maine. The first two seats to the right back of the supreme court were reserved for the diplomatic corps and back of them was the seats set apart for the members of the house of representatives and members elect. Opposite sat the senators in the rear, governors of states, ex-senators and commissioners of the District of Columbia and others.

SEATS IN THE PRESIDENTIAL GALLERY.

The President's and vice-president's seats in the gallery adjoining the diplomatic gallery on the north were arranged as follows: Front seat to the right, President's family; second seat to the right, family of the president-elect; third row, relatives of President and President-elect. The first one to take a place in that seat was Mrs. John V. L. Findlay of Baltimore, whose husband is Gen. Harrison's cousin. The first arrival in the diplomatic gallery was that of Assistant Secretary of State G. L. Rivers and wife. They were soon followed by Mrs. Gen. J. W. Foster and her cousin, Mrs. Dr. Bacon, of this city.

HANNIBAL HAMLIN ARRIVES.

Hannibal Hamlin, the venerable ex-vice-President, was escorted to his seat at the right of President pro tempore Ingalls by his old friend, Captain Bassett, and as he moved across the chamber over which he presided for four years he was greeted by a generous clapping of hands, the first demonstration of the day.

A WAVE OF APPLAUSE FOR BLAINE.
Mr. Blaine came in at this moment by a rear door and modestly took a seat at the extreme end of the senatorial body, but could not escape discovery and a ripple of applause ran over the chamber. This was increased to a wave as Senator Hale went down and escorted him to a more prominent seat.

GENERALS FREMONT AND SHERMAN.

General John C. Fremont only shortly preceded the entrance of General Sherman and Major General Schofield and personal aids, the three latter being gorgeously uniformed in gold and blue. General Sherman wore a black Prince Albert with his G. A. R. badge on the lapel of his coat.

THE DIPLOMATIC CORPS.

At 11:10 the main doors of the senate were opened and Doorkeeper Christo escorted the diplomatic corps to their seats. The dean of the corps, Minister Preston of Hayti, headed the line and the bright pageant notably illuminated the otherwise sombre scene. The magnificent figure of the Austrian minister in a uniform of white and gold was an excellent foil for the color and gilt of the other uniforms, that of Count Arco Valley, the German minister, being the most pronounced. The picturesque costumes of the Korean and Chinese embassies received their full share of attention and after the procession had been given seats the plain people on the floor were sadly neglected by the fair ones in the gallery.

WINDOM AND NOBLE.

Even distinguished notables came in without attracting much attention among them ex-Secretary Windom and John W. Noble of Missouri.

At 11 o'clock Messrs. McMillan, Kelly and Breckenridge of Arkansas, the house committee appointed to wait on the president and ask if he had any further communication to make, appeared at the main doors and were announced, whereupon Senators Sherman and Saulsbury joined them and retired.

THE SOLEMN CHIEF JUSTICES.

Two minutes later the justices of the supreme court were announced, and with becoming solemnity were escorted to their seats to the right of the presiding officer, headed by Marshal Wright and Clerk McKenney. The latter carried in his hand General Harrison's family Bible, on which he afterward took the oath of office, and Chief Justice Fuller and Justice Miller walked together, followed in pairs by Justices Field, Bradley, Harlan, Gray, Blatchford and Lamar. Ex-justice Strong and Reporter Otto brought up the rear. As they passed down the aisle the assemblage on the floor arose and remained standing until the count was seated.

THE PARTY OF THE PRESIDENT-ELECT.

At 11:15 the executive gallery doors were opened to admit the party of the President-elect. The persons comprising the presidential party were as follows: Mrs. Benjamin Harrison, her father, the Rev. Dr. J. W. Scott; her sister, Mrs. Lord; Russel B. Harrison and wife; Mr. and Mrs. J. B. McKee of Indianapolis; Mrs. Alvin Saunders, of Nebraska; Mrs. R. S. McKee and daughter of Indianapolis; Mr. and Mrs. John S. Harrison of Kansas City; Mrs. Devon, of Iowa and Mrs. Eaton of Ohio, half sisters of the President; Mrs. Bettie Harrison, of Chicago, and son, Will Harrison; Lieutenant and Mrs. John Parker; Judge John Scott; Mrs. A. T. Britton and Mrs. George B. Williams, wives of members of the executive inaugural committee; Private Secretary Halford, wife and daughter. Mrs. Morton was accompanied by J. K. McCummons of this city and the young ladies of her family.

THE PRESIDENT.

At one minute to 12 Captain Bassett announced the President of the United States and a great hush fell. President Cleveland entered arm in arm with Senator Cockrell, and preceded by Captain Bassett and followed by the members of his cabinet, he walked to the seat assigned him in front of the clerk's desk. The eight heads of departments, Bayard, Endicott, Fairchild, Whitney, Garland, Brewster, Vilas and Cushman, sat themselves opposite the justices of the supreme court, the assemblage standing until all were seated.

THE PRESIDENT-ELECT.

At 11:15 the arm of Senator R. appeared at the door and was introduced by Captain Bassett as "The President-elect of the United States," and walked with his companion to a seat provided at President Cleveland's right, the audience again rising to their feet.

VICE PRESIDENT MORTON.

The same ceremony was repeated with Vice President-elect Morton. Before taking his seat he was sworn in by Mr. Ingalls.

THE FIFTIETH SUCCEEDED BY THE FIFTY-FIRST.

At 11:59 President pro tempore Ingalls closed the fiftieth congress. Immediately on the relinquishment of the chairs by Senator Ingalls, Vice President Morton ascended the forum and called the senate of the fifty first congress to order in special session.

To the Farmers!

200,000 Chickens, Turkeys, Geese and Ducks Wanted.

Lane is still on deck and don't forget it. Having made arrangements to load a car twice a month enables me to pay such prices for all kind of poultry as has never been paid in Bates County, Mo. I will pay the following prices for poultry in cash to be delivered on March 8th, 9th and 11th, 1889.

Turkeys, per pound, alive, 6¢ cts; chickens, old hens, per pound, 6 cts, which brings you from 2.50 to $5.00 per dozen; young roosters, 1.25 to $1.50 per doz; old roosters, $1.20 per doz. Price list of poultry, in trade; turkey hens, alive per pound, 8 cts; tom turkeys, alive per pound, 6 cts; hens, 7 cts per pound, 3.00, to 5.00 per dozen; young roosters, 1.25, to $1.75 per dozen.

I will pay the above prices in cash poultry to be delivered on March 8th, 9th and 11th, 1889. I will give you a new price list for the next two weeks. The highest cash price paid for all kinds of poultry at Lane's I am also selling dry goods cheaper than those who are selling out at cost and have just received a large stock of the best selected goods ever brought to Butler, and will not be undersold. Thanking you for your past favors, I will ask you all to come again and see the farmer's friend,

PETER LANE.

THE WALL PAPER POOL.

Will most likely be formed on March 5th, 1889, and those who bought goods while the Pool existed well understand what effect it had on the Prices of Wall Paper, and I would suggest to those expecting to

BUY WALL PAPER

to do so at once. I have been advised by reliable WALL PAPER HOUSES that the Pool would surely form and I give it to my customers for what it is worth. I now have in ever brought to Butler. New and Elegant designs, both in common and Gilt, my goods were bought direct from the Factory and many advantages can be given which I have never been in a situation to offer. It will cost you nothing to come and see my line and get prices and you can save 25 per cent by buying from me.

Stock the Largest, Cheapest and Best Line of Wall Paper

Respectfully,

GEO. W. WEAVER.

FIRST DOOR EAST OF BUTLER NAT'L BANK.

The Kansas City Star, of the 27th says the Hon. E. E. Kimball, the republican candidate for governor last fall, has given up his law practice at Nevada, and will locate in Kansas City to live permanently. His law partner, Mr. January denies the statement. Mr. K. is now in Washington taking in the inaugural and looking after his chances for district attorney.

Children Cry for Pitcher's Castoria.

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria.
When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria.
When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria.
When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.

The Marshall Democrat published the following remedy for hog cholera which at least has the merit of being inexpensive and easily given: "Mr. A. Leonard informs us that recent experiments have convinced him that petroleum is a cure for hog cholera. The disease recently appeared among his hogs and prompt resort to the remedy affected a cure at once. His brothers tried the same remedy with the same result. A neighbor's herd was badly effected with cholera and petroleum prevented the spread of the disease. He says he soaked shelled corn in petroleum also poured petroleum over shelled corn in the troughs."

This powder never varies. A marvel of purity strength and wholesomeness. More economical than the ordinary kinds, and cannot be sold in competition with the multitude of low test, short weight alum or phosphate powders. Sold only in cans. ROYAL BAKING POWDER CO., 108 W. 1st., N. Y.

PASSAIC STOCK FARM.

BATES COUNTY, MO.

C. S. CONKLIN, Proprietor.

At this stable, situated five miles north of Butler, and five miles south of Adrain, there will stand for the season, the following stock.

Membrino Chief Jr.

16 1-2 hands high, weight 1250, color bay, black points. Imported to this county from Kentucky, by Mr. Warnock last year. Perhaps there is not a horse, in the state of Missouri, combining within himself such an amount of thorough trotting blood, as this one. Can show a 2:50 gate, and has never been trained.

TIMOTHY,

16 hands high, color dark bay, star in the forehead, can show a three minute gait, without training. A good honest, general purpose horse, and when you want any better pedigree, you will have to go farther than Almont, who has 34, in the 2:30 list. Lady Thorn, 2:18 1/2 because he is directly descended from them, and combines all the best blood that has produced such trotters as Maud, S. J. I. C. etc.,

DON CARLOS.

Thoroughbred Jack, color black, mealy nose, five years old, 15 1-2 hands high, and a remarkable fine breeder imported to this county by W. Warnock, also

DON PEDRO.

Jack, 15 hands high, color black, mealy nose, three years old, will be permitted to serve 20 mares. I insert this in the Times to call your attention to this stock, knowing that if you see them you will be pleased. In the next issue we will give the pedigree, in full, also terms, conditions, etc.

Respectfully, CHAS. S. CONKLIN.
